

Name: Gina Lee

Affiliation: Assistant Professor, University of California Irvine

Seminar Title: RNA at the Center of Cancer Signaling and Metabolism

Abstract: RNA, a pivotal genetic molecule responsible for transmitting genetic information from DNA to proteins, plays a central role in the regulation of gene expression programs. In this seminar, I will discuss the intricate interplay between oncogenic signal transduction pathways and cellular metabolism, focusing on their impact on RNA processing and chemical modifications.